

EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

DOUGLAS ANSEL, SECRETARY GENERAL

Douglas Ansel is a senior double majoring in political science and economics at Mississippi State University (MSU). He was awarded a Presidential Scholarship at MSU and has also received an undergraduate research fellowship. He has conducted research with Dr. Rick Travis that focuses on factors that influenced the outcomes of United Nations peacekeeping missions with democratization components, and the findings from this work are to be submitted to International Studies Quarterly in hopes of publication. He is a member of the honor societies Pi Sigma Alpha, Phi Kappa Phi, and Mortar Board.

Conference Experience

Mississippi Model Security Council

--Undersecretary General, 2009

--Delegate for Argentina, 2008

Southern Regional Model United Nations

--Delegate for Ukraine, 2007

JENNIFER PUHR, LEGAL COUNSEL

Jennifer Puhr is a junior at Mississippi State University (MSU) pursuing a degree in Communication, Journalism with a minor in English. This is her seventh year with the Mississippi Model Security program. Jennifer currently works at the Social Science Research Center of MSU, where she is editing and producing a book for the Center's upcoming 60th Anniversary. Upon graduation, Jennifer hopes to secure a copy editing position at Southern Living magazine. Her campus activities include Shackouls Honors College, University Honors Council, where she currently serves as Vice Chair of Administration, Chi Omega sorority, and Wesley Foundation.

Conference Experience

Mississippi Model Security Council

--Legal Counsel, 2009

--Council President, 2008

--Delegate for Qatar, 2007

--Delegation Head for Russia, 2006 (Outstanding Resolution, Outstanding Delegation)

--Delegation Head for Peru, 2005

--Delegate for Russia, 2004

--Delegate for China, 2003

Southern Regional Model United Nations

--Delegate for Ukraine, 2008

HARRY NELSON, UNDERSECRETARY GENERAL

Harry Nelson is a senior at Mississippi State University (MSU) pursuing degrees in Mathematics and Political Science. This is his seventh year to be involved in Mississippi Model Security Council. Harry currently works as a sports writer for the Reflector, the MSU newspaper. His activities include the Famous Maroon Band, where he serves as a tuba section leader, the College Democrats, where he serves as treasurer, Shackouls Honors College, the University Honors Council, and Phi Kappa Phi. He is also the founder, main organizer, and treasurer of the MSU Quiz Bowl Club.

Conference Experience

Mississippi Model Security Council

- Undersecretary General, 2009
- Council President, 2008
- Council President, 2007
- Delegate for Denmark, 2006
- Delegate for Angola, 2005
- Delegate for France, 2004
- Delegate for Singapore, 2003 (Outstanding Delegation)

AMBER MCCORKLE, DIPLOMATIC OFFICER

Amber McCorkle is a fifth year Political Science major at Mississippi State University (MSU). She is currently completing her bachelor's degree in Political Science with a minor in History. She's had the privilege to work with two local political campaigns in the past two years. She's been involved in several MSU campus organizations and clubs and previously held an Executive Board Position on the Black Student Alliance. She recently created a junior high and high school Christian mentoring program by the name of Students Living A Mission. This club is currently being place in five schools in her home town of Greenville, MS. She is expected to graduate December 2008 and plans to attend graduate school at her current university. She wishes to work on a Masters in Secondary Education with a focus in History.

Conference Experience

Mississippi Model Security Council

- Diplomatic Officer, 2009
- Council President, 2008
- Council Vice President 2006
- Delegate for Romania 2005

Southern Regional Model United Nations

- Delegate for Tanzania, 2008
- Delegate for Peru, 2007

SARAH COFFEY, DIPLOMATIC OFFICER

Sarah Coffey is a junior at Mississippi State University (MSU) majoring in Clinical Exercise Physiology. This is her sixth year with the Mississippi Model Security program. Sarah works in the MSU Football office as an administrative office assistant and student recruiter. After graduating from Mississippi State, Sarah wants to pursue physical therapy school. Her campus activities include Shackouls Honors College, Exercise Science Honors Society, where she serves as Treasurer, Global Leadership Program, and Phi Kappa Phi Honors Society.

Conference Experience

Mississippi Model Security Council

- Diplomatic Officer, 2009
- Council President, 2008
- Diplomatic Escort, 2007
- Delegation for Russia, 2006 (Outstanding Resolution, Outstanding Delegation)
- Delegation for Peru, 2005
- Delegate for Russia, 2004

Southern Regional Model United Nations

- Delegate for Ukraine, 2008

SARAH CROSBY, HEAD PRESIDENT

Sarah Crosby is a senior Chemical Engineering major at Mississippi State University (MSU). This is her seventh year being involved with the Model Security Program. While at MSU, Sarah has worked for the Department of Chemical Engineering as an undergraduate researcher in the area of polymer-based materials. She is a James P. Applewhite Scholar and a Dave C. Swalm Scholar. She is involved in Shackouls Honors College, Sigma Phi Lambda, Wesley Foundation, and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers where she currently serves as the MSU chapter secretary.

Conference Experience

Mississippi Model Security Council

- Head of Council Presidents, 2009
- Council President, 2007, 2008
- Council Vice-President, 2006
- Delegate for the United Kingdom, 2005
- Delegate for the United States, 2004
- Delegate for the Syrian Arab Republic, 2003

Southern Regional Model United Nations

- Delegate for the United Republic of Tanzania, 2007
- Delegate for Peru, 2006
- Delegate for the Republic of Turkey, 2005